Cancer in the family affects everyone.

That’s why we have created CanTeen Connect for Parents, an online support community for parents dealing with cancer in the family.

We know that when parents impacted by cancer communicate openly, their children are less likely to experience distress and anxiety and the family copes better.

If you are a parent or carer (with children aged 12-25), CanTeen Connect for Parents will help you:

- Connect with other parents in the same boat
- Share experiences through blogs and posts
- Talk to a team of highly trained counsellors about family communication and parenting through cancer
- Access credible, relevant resources specific to parenting and cancer.
